Youth Art Day 2020

Division: Literature
Category: Short Story
Grades: K-2
Ella Eichelberger
First Grade
Susquenita Elementary
Short Story
Me and My Dad

1st Place
Me and My Dad

A long time ago, when I was a baby, I sat on my daddy’s lap. I took my daddy’s sunglasses. Then I put them on. I laughed so hard that the sunglasses fell off. I giggled. My daddy heard me giggling. He saw his sunglasses on the ground. He told me to pick up the sunglasses. Then I had a sad face. He said, “I am just messing with you!”
Harper Brackbill

First Grade

Susquenita Elementary

Short Story

At the Zoo

2nd Place
At the Zoo

Once upon a time, I was in the zoo. I brought my dog and cat. I let go of the leash. They ran. I did not see them in any part of the zoo. I looked everywhere. I looked behind a tree and they were not there. I looked behind a big bush. They were there. I was happy. I hugged them. We saw a tiger and a monkey. Then we ate dinner at a restaurant.
Alexandria Morris
First Grade
Susquenita Elementary
Short Story
Beautiful Waterfall

3rd Place
Beautiful Waterfall

One day I went to see a waterfall. It took one hour to get there. When we finally got there, it was dark. But we could still see the waterfall.

The waterfall was a rainbow waterfall. I got to touch the waterfall. It was so cool.
Jaxon Portzline
First Grade
Susquenita Elementary
Short Story
The Long Journey
The Long Journey

Once I went on a trip. It was 17 miles. We were looking for shark bones. We had to go on a ship. When we got there, we heard a sound.

It was a dog! The dog helped us find bones.

We found lots of bones.
Youth Art Day 2020

Division: Literature
Category: Short Story
Grades: 3-5
“Never Give Up” by Frank Lentz, V

Suspense was in the air. It was six to six – Shermans Dale vs. Dauphin County. Miller went up to bat. There was one out, bases loaded. He strikes the ball with all his might and hit line drive out to left field, but the third baseman caught it.

"Out!", the umpire yelled.

It was all up to me now; I was next up to bat. I walked nervously over to the batter’s box thinking about what my team would do if I got out. I was scared. I looked straight into the pitchers grimacing eyes. The ball flew as fast as an airplane right down the middle. I swung and missed.

"Strike!", the umpire yelled.

"Oh no," I thought as I looked at my coach and he gave me the signal to bunt. I looked at him like he was crazy because there were two outs and the bases were loaded! The pitcher lobbed it up, but it was going fast. As I waited to bring the bat over my waist I thought over and over, "What would my team do if I hit it?"

CLINK! The ball went about three feet. I ran and didn't look back. I heard cheering. My dad was the first base coach. He picked me up and spun me around when I successfully made it to first base.

The pitcher was muttering and crying to himself. It looked like all of Dauphin County was going to be sad tonight because we won seven to six.

Our team threw our gloves and helmets on the field. Our coach talked to us and gave me the game ball! Our team was going to win the championship, I knew.

And we did. I was so excited I couldn't believe it. "I hit a game winning bunt," I muttered over and over to myself. "I just can't believe it, and all my family was there to watch it," I thought.

I felt like the king of the world.

1st Place
Addisyn Klemick
5th Grade
Susquenita Middle School
Short Story – “Fantasy Town”
Fantasy Town

This is a story about a girl named Stella, and she is going to tell you about her Christmas. “Hi, my name is Stella, and this is my Christmas list. PS: tomorrow is Christmas!”

Stella’s Christmas list

Putty

Book-Diary of The Monsterly Kid

Puzzle

Scooter

Thank you Santa!

The next day. “Today is Christmas!!” Stella screeched. Her parents got out of bed and they all went downstairs. Stella started to open one of her gifts, but suddenly stopped. ‘What is wrong?’ was going through her parent’s heads.

Then all of a sudden, “YAY!” She had gotten the new electric scooter. She was down to the last present. “Last one.” Stella exclaimed. As she opened it, she saw her parents smile. Stella thought in her head that it was going to be the best gift EVER!
Then she opened it. It was an envelope, so Stella opened the envelope, unfolded the piece of paper, and read it aloud. Stella started “You love butterflies, right?” She paused, “Yes I love them,” and continued. “Well you’re in luck! You have a membership to go see butterflies at Fantasy Town for a whole year!”

Stella was so happy that she didn’t even read the rest. She just ran right over to her parents and squeezed them tightly. The next day Dec 26, she made a gingerbread house with her mom. Then her mom surprised Stella with allowing her to go to Fantasy Town, so at noon they left. It was an hour and a half drive, and they closed at 6:30.

So, they had to be in a little hurry. Once they got there, they got their wristbands on to go see the butterflies. Stella was so excited to see the butterflies. Then they walked in and there were so many butterflies! Stella was in disbelief!

“There were butterflies the size of my hand there!” Stella said. There was also a chrysalis section there too. One of them had hatched and they called it Stella! Stella was so stunned she could hardly breathe. The whole time they were there, there was this one big butterfly that followed Stella. It had an owl print but when it opened its wings, they were blue. They took many pictures of it because it was so pretty. When it was time to leave, they made sure there weren’t any butterflies on them. They got in the car and shared what butterfly was their favorite.
Stella’s mom’s favorite was the monarch. Stella said her favorite one was the blue one. Stella then thanked her mother for taking her to Fantasy Town. Then her mom said “Well, maybe you’d like to have your birthday party here.” Stella could hardly believe her ears! Finally, on January 21, 2020 Stella had an awesome birthday party!

The End
Copper to the Rescue

Rebekah Gustafson

Third Grade

Blain Elementary

Short Story

3rd Place
Copper to the Rescue

Once, there was a Golden Retriever. He lived under a fallen tree in the woods. He had no family, he had no name. He was alone. After searching for berries and successfully finding 15 he started to feel lonely. Then he saw something flickering in the distance. It was flames. The young dog was curious. He ran down to get a closer look. The house was on fire. The people that were outside the house with the firefighters looked afraid. The puppy knew that someone or something was still in there. Then without thinking the puppy dashed in not knowing what danger could come to him. He stumbled over fallen wood and metal in the house. Then he heard a faint cry, HELP! HELP! He heard the noise get louder and louder as he came closer to it. HELP! HELP! Through the ash and smoke he came to his destination, a young boy named Peter. The puppy Peter out of the house by the shirt collar to safety. When the dog came out with Peter right behind him Peter’s parents and the firefighters applauded his big rescue. The fire chief said “Let’s keep this pup for fire rescue at the station. He’ll be good for work. We’ll name him Copper”. Copper was a very good fire rescue dog and lived a happy life from that day on. - Rebekah Gustafson
Micah Coleman

Grade 5

Susquenita Middle School

Short Story (Graphic Novel)

"Eraser Man"

3rd Place
Eraser Man

The Snow Manace

By Micah Coleman
Chapter 1

THE

SNOW MAN
The Lord of Minopoli

and it's

Her through time...

1996: Bye!

2019: Ah...

and a billionaire.

Home.

Home.
ROAR

AAA

Croq

I'm olive!

Stem

Stem
Later
ERASER MAN!

A snowman came to life.
It is evil.

Try on it.
Chapter 2:

the "Snow ranger"

Hunt
Eroser men's hearted...

A HA!

One four.

I'll get you! You may try.
Chapter 3

An annoying kind of enemy

Yelping
Eraser man tried his best to catch his foe...

But was outsmarted.

Hey!

Brr

Pep

5
20 miles away

[Drawing of a person jumping and a building with a sign that says "First Bank of Ten"]

"Ping"

"Ha Ha!"

[Drawing of a person falling from the top of the building]
Chapter 4

How to catch a very elusive and evil Snowman, who likes going on your nerves just for the fun of it.
And this is how ERASER MAN captured the SNOW MAN...

Keep running on and about the frame of ERASER MAN...
PART 2,

ERASER MAN

and The

"ERASE NAME"

DUO

Chapter 1: The Beginning
Once, Eraser Man was writing and met a friend.

WOOSH

So, the Eraser Dynamic Duo rose.

in a boat of vehicles...
And one ultimate friendship.

Then one day...

Crash!

Smash!

Wham!

Let's see.
BLAM!

It's an evil ghost!

Let's get him!

ZOOM
That's one fast scooter.

Zoom

Then...

Oof! I'm not sure I can propose in here.

Wooosh! Aaaa!
Chapter 2,

The one and ONLY
ERASER MAN
Let's get out of here!

Ahoo!

AAA

Foss

Thud

Mmmph

Noooon

AHHH!

Chomp
Chomp
Chomp

Gulp

13
Chapter 3:

Endings and Beginnings
Chapter 4,
The Big Fight
I'm 60 MD. I will help to be out the yust.

Meanwhile

I must des. OK.

ARGH

thud thud

woosh

15
Click

Shing!

AA

Wham

Ha

GAH!

HA!

What was that?

we Don't lose easy!

thud

thud

Or else.
Bam

Slash

C'mon

You did it!

THE END!