MISSION

To build community through the arts. We accomplished this by nurturing the creative spirit in adults and children, supporting artists and celebrating their successes, enhancing the local economy and implementing arts education initiatives throughout seven counties in Central PA.

PCCA Connects our Community Through the Arts with our Core Programs.

Through a partnership with Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, PCCA administers Arts in Education residencies in 7 counties, linking professional artists with schools, senior facilities, libraries, and other organizations. Participants collaborate on a project for a culminating event or private or public art piece.

Our Creative Programs serve the community with events and artistic opportunities that are often low cost, free, or discounted to PCCA members. These include workshops; poetry and book readings; concerts and performances; Coffeehouse open mic nights; bus trips; Drop-In Art; and summer art camp.

PCCA Gallery staff provides sales and marketing support to Central PA artists and makers of every discipline and skill level. Member artists can display and sell their works at PCCA Gallery, Landis House exhibitions, and Art on Tour traveling displays.

Mary Landis donated Landis House to PCCA in 2007 at the time of her death, in honor of her parents. PCCA hosts rotating exhibitions, classes, concerts, art camps, community meetings, and other events at Landis House, while displaying Landis Family art and artifacts.

PCCA board, staff and volunteers strive to fulfill the mission by helping artists become more economically viable, encouraging adults and young people to explore various art forms, and providing local programs that community members can join as participants or as members of an audience.

LIVES IMPACTED

Our community arts programming positively impacts people of all ages, backgrounds, skill levels and walks of life throughout the Central PA region. Two of our most successful programs continue to see strong attendance numbers, because they support the health, happiness and creativity of those who participate.

649 Drop-In Art

266 Coffeehouse Open Mic

**2017-2019 attendance averaged per year.*

PERRY COUNTY COUNCIL OF THE ARTS is pleased to present our biennial report.

Reflecting on the last two years, it is more apparent than ever that PCCA has succeeded in crafting an intricate web of creativity that spans and connects our community on myriad levels. Coffeehouse open mic events generate hubs of activity at partnering dining establishments throughout Perry County. Drop-In Art continues to attract families to create works of art together regularly at Newport and Duncannon locations and during community events. PCCA Gallery connects and supports upwards of 150 Central PA artists and attracts visitors from near and far. Our partnership with Pennsylvania Council on the Arts enables us to extend Arts in Education programming into neighboring Juniata, Mifflin, Union, Snyder, Northumberland and Huntingdon counties. With your participation, partnerships and donations of time and treasure, PCCA received regional recognition as Simply the Best from Harrisburg Magazine, our member artists presented stellar artwork in special Art on Tour group exhibitions at WITF Media Center and the PA State Capitol Building, we formed relationships with new residency artists and community sites, and we documented and celebrated our rural landscape through historical and quilt-inspired murals.

We also learned a few things. The first is that change, if properly introduced, can be exciting and invigorating. Change provides a new perspective, an altered approach to the way we do things, and a chance to reinvent ourselves. We also learned that PCCA's staff team is strong, resilient and committed to keeping creative expression alive in Perry County and Central PA. We have been blessed with steady, dedicated and innovative leaders, all infusing their own style. Under their care, our staff members have received training in arts management; arts marketing; and diversity, equity and inclusion—further increasing our confidence and capability.

Lastly, our members and supporters possess ever-evolving needs and desires for seamless opportunities for creative expression and cultural experiences. PCCA must continue to listen to and anticipate these needs. We must present programming and communications that are relevant, effective and illuminating. Both the board and staff team are up for the challenge.

Thank you for your positive interactions, your inspirational sharing, and your devotion to and belief in our rural arts community.

Jasmine Colbert
Executive Director

Richard Steffy
Board President

Thank you to former Executive Director Erika Juran for her service to PCCA. Under Erika's leadership, PCCA grew its grant funding, public art initiatives, programming, strategic partnerships, income generation, and its teaching and member artist roster. Erika secured PCCA's participation in Americans for the Arts' 2-year marketing program and has been a guest blogger.

The Landis House porch is getting a makeover to preserve its beauty and to ensure safety for visitors, thanks to a generous Keystone Historic Preservation Grant from The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, and the Lawrence L. and Julia Z. Hoverter Charitable Foundation.

PCCA staff completed Americans for the Arts' 2-year marketing program, "Arts Marketing & Audience Engagement in the 21st Century: Building The Capacity of Pennsylvania's Cultural Sector," and will continue their learning in upcoming marketing bootcamps and training sessions.
