

Prominently located on the downtown square in Newport, Perry County, PCCA Gallery showcases the fine, handcrafted artwork of nearly 200 of the region's talented artists. With the assistance of a knowledgeable, passionately committed staff, you can learn the story behind the artwork and discover who the artists are and what drives them to create.

PCCA Gallery showcases several themed and solo artist Exhibitions each year, and with other gallery displays changing more frequently, there is a revolving display of paintings, sculptures, pottery, literature, jewelry, personal care products, clothing and accessories.

LANDIS HOUSE

Perry County Council of the Arts (PCCA) also operates the historic Landis House, with displays of artwork and artifacts from the Estate of Mary M. Landis, contemporary exhibitions, intimage concerts, classes and workshops, and meeting spaces.

While our name implies that we are a county arts council, PCCA has a regional impact—drawing in working artists, poets and musicians from all over Central Pennsylvania. Perry County Council of the Arts also partners with the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts to implement artist residencies in seven counties. In addition, we provide a host of local programs to our immediate community.

Whether you are in our neighborhood, or you are hearing of us for the first time, the board and staff of Perry County Council of the Arts welcome the opportunity to showcase your artwork!

About the Exhibition

Art Uplifts is a traveling outdoor exhibition that was created to safely engage and lift up our community and artists, during the challenges of the pandemic, while we needed to pause on-site exhibition offerings at our indoor locations. The outdoor showings have been so popular, we are continuing them in 2022.

Uplifting artwork centered on the themes of inspiration, encouragement, hope, perseverance, etc., will be displayed on durable outdoor yard signs along walking trails in several of our local parks.

The goal is to leave viewers with inspiring and uplifting messages to carry with them throughout their day.
