From the President

Thank you to everyone who attended, supported and contributed to this year's Local Treasures fundraiser. I am happy to announce, this year's attendance was up from previous years. If you attended, we hope that you enjoyed your time with us!

PCCA has a lot of upcoming opportunities to enjoy and support the arts. Our annual juried show featuring 32 regional artists will be on display at Landis House until October 26. Browse a selection of more than 100 locally handmade mugs during Mugstravaganza from September 23rd - December 31st. Enjoy drinks and treats from Buffalo Brew during the opening reception on the 23rd at the PCCA Gallery. Start your holiday shopping with the Artisan Marketplace of Perry County. The Marketplace, located at the PCCA Gallery will open September 29 and run through January 12. Join us for another great Perry Live! performance with Steve Rudolph on November 19th at The Landis House. For our young artists, consider enrolling in one of our afterschool classes this October and November.

Be sure to follow us on facebook and instagram for all of the latest happenings at PCCA. We hope to see you in the upcoming months!

PCCA Staff Updates

As the seasons transition, so do the members of our dynamic team. The time has come to say goodbye to two very important and influential staff members whose ideas and impact will be greatly missed.

Leah Keilman served as the PCCA Gallery Manager since 2018. She offered support, encouragement and inspiration to member artists and is herself a talented painter. Building on her role at PCCA and having her degree in Art Education, Leah will be a well-rounded asset for Newport High School as she moves into the art classroom as a long-term substitute teacher.

Since 2021, Arts in Education Coordinator Rachel Barron has made successful arts residency matches that allowed artists to share and teach their art form to students and community members across seven Central PA counties including Perry. It is a large footprint and Rachel managed the personalities, the nuances of each art form and the needs of each hosting location. We will miss her composure and professionalism and wish her luck as the Education Manager for the Susquehanna Art Museum.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

A graduating senior from each Perry County district is nominated annually by school administration and honored by PCCA for their dedication, mastery and accolades in the arts. Below are the 2023 recipients.

Greenwood High School

Ella Seiber has been pursuing the arts since her elementary years. She was an active member of the chorus, swing choir, band, jazz band, and musical. Through her years at Greenwood, she had the opportunity to participate in live productions as Belle in Greenwood's production of Beauty and the Beast and Lina Lamont in Singin' in the Rain. In the spring of 2022, she was a Hershey Theatre Apollo Award nominee for the category of "Outstanding Lead Actress in a Musical" for her performance as Belle. She frequently sang the National anthem at Greenwood sporting events and performed at Perry County band and choral festivals. She is thankful for everything the performing arts have taught her in life and the experiences and friendships she has gained through them. She also participated in basketball, field hockey, the Greenwood Athletic Association, Spanish Honor Society, and as treasurer of the Greenwood Honor Society.

Ella plans to attend York College of Pennsylvania to major in nursing.

Newport High School

Trinity Prosser is the daughter of Stephanie and Kevin Prosser and step parents John and Anna. She has shown dedication, discipline, and maturity through her works of art as well as her other academic classes. She was the President of student council, President of national honors society, and chief operating officer of DECA. She also ran cross country all 4 years of high school and received MVP freshman and senior year and coach's award junior year. Trinity plans to attend Penn State for interior design.

Trinity has a passion for learning and a desire to be innovative and think critically. Her intrinsic motivation not only allows her independence to become more apparent, but also highlights the degree of dedication Trinity is willing to put towards her education and future endeavors.

West Perry High School

Eliza Kowalewski has been a part of many extracurricular activities, clubs and organizations throughout her four years at West Perry High School. Above all, she has received the most joy and growth from art. She uses art to express her emotions and personality and to share with others. She was also able to use her skills to help others achieve their goals by helping turn their ideas into reality. She dedicated much of her time and talents to the drama program with poster, program, and T-shirt designs over the years.

With that in mind, Eliza applied and was accepted into a communication design program at Geneva College in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania where she will explore graphic design and studio art.

Susquenita High School

Zion Wilson is the daughter of Carrie and Matt Wilson. She participated in Susquenita's productions of Beauty and the Beast, Musical Revue, The Rented Christmas, Mamma Mia!, Cabaret 2022 and Clue. Zion also participated in Cove Mountain Community Theater's production of Godspell and The Addams Family. She participated in marching band, concert band, jazz band, choir, West Side Singers and Chamber Singers.

Zion is a talented actress and vocalist who has participated in every musical ensemble and theatre production since she was in 7th grade. Zion is a source of inspiration for her peers who collaborate with her during productions.

SHOW & TELL

Are you enthusiastic about your art and encouraging the next generation of Perry County artists?

PCCA's Preschool Visiting Artist program invites you to apply to share what your art is all about with local Perry County preschool students. Participating artists join Janice Bailor, rostered teaching artist and Drop-In Art Coordinator, to develop a short presentation (approximately 5-10 minutes in length) showcasing your process and discussing your art and medium. Following your presentation, Janice will lead the students in an age-appropriate activity(ies) based on your work and presentation materials. Ask questions or apply to: Janice Bailor, PCCA Pre-K and Drop-In Art Coordinator, laruedelfuers@gmail.com or 717-395-8091.

Underwritten in part by The Children's Home Foundation Fund, a fund of The Foundation for Enhancing Communities.
